Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the colon, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

WHAT IS THE POCAHONTAS COUNTY FAIR?

The Fair is largely an exhibition. It is a graphic method of portraying what has been accomplished by all agencies, associations, organizations, and industries during 1928, or since our last Fair. It is a blackboard upon which are pictured the results of progress, improvement, initiative—the application of better methods and closer study. It is a great moving picture of the year's activities. Thousand of accurate photographs of the county at its best go into the making of this picture. The Fair should be an occasion upon which are displayed the results of the year's education, when the rate and direction of progress can be determined. This is done through a system of exhibits, competitions, contests, demonstrations, explanations, and entertainments, whose main features are better men and women, superior crops, animals, machinery, the products of the home and school, a higher standard of living.

The Pocahontas County Fair is an occasion of mutual interest to every one in the county. It is a county gathering of people interested in their communities, in themselves, and in everything that tends to improve the locality, the farm, the church and the school.

The Pocahontas County Fair leaves no one out of its program. Every one is included from the youngest, who figures in the Children's Contests to the oldest, who have in their charge the cherished historic relics. No interest in the county is omitted from the Fair program. The local paper, the school, the clubs, the communities, the boys and girls, the farmers and farm women, all have a place in this work together festival. The Fair is the Home Coming Season for Pocahontas. It is a time when we welcome back our friends and relatives. The family reunion is not a new institution in Southern life. There have been family reunions, but they have been few and far between. The automobile and modern system of highways have added a new feature to this social event.

The Pocahontas county Fair blazes new trails. It gets all kinds of people together in new relationships. New abilities are discovered, new friends made and acquaintances renewed. Talent is developed, and the best of all, people learn new ways and means of working together.

The Fair comes August 20-25-1928.

LEGEND OF OLD RUSSIA

That popular march called the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," by the Russian composer Bailely, thrills people wherever it is heard. For there is real martial music in the march and thousands have listened to it with delight.

But not every one knows that there is a Russian legend around which the march is written that is more than a hundred years old. In a little book called "The Child's History of Russia" there is a story that goes something like this: One day about a hundred years ago, Czar Paul was reviewing his army. In the troops was one special regiment of which he was exceedingly proud because they always obeyed orders to a man and were splendid soldiers as well. The czar had just given this regiment the order "Forward, march," when some one pointed out that an important state paper needed his immediate attention. He hurried away to attend to it, and left his soldiers still marching.

Now it was the rule in Russia during the reign of Paul, that when soldiers were bidden to do anything they must keep on doing it until forced to stop. So on marched the soldiers, out of Winter Palace Square, where they were being reviewed, and out of sight and mind of the czar still nobody to tell them to stop. So they marched to the Ural Mountains and across them into Siberia, and as they marched their legs and arms grew stiffer and their steps jerkier, and by this time no one could persuade them to stop even for a brief rest. Their beloved czar had told them to march and he had not told them to stop and they never dreamed that he had forgotten all about them. So for days and days they marched without food and rest until one by one their stiffened legs became really wooden and finally the entire regiment turned into a clump of trees. Meanwhile their czar had died; but to this very day a certain clump of trees in a certain part of the Siberian forests is pointed out as the "Wooden Soldiers"—Selected.

JOHN OF THE MOUNTAINS

Senator Giff in his speech in memory of the late Senator Willis quoted John of the Mountains, wonderful John, is past the summit and traveling on. The turn of the trail on the mountain side, A smile and "Hall" where the glaciers slide, A streak of red where the condors ride, And John is over the Great Divide.

John of the Mountains camps to-day On a level spot by the Milky Way; And God is telling him how he rolled The smoking earth from the iron mold, And hammered the mountains till they were cold, And planted the redwood trees of old And John of the Mountains says: "I know, And I wanted to grapple the hand of you; And now we're sure to be friends and chums, And camp together till chaos comes."

J. ALFRED TAYLOR

The Gazette congratulates J. Alfred Taylor upon his nomination for Governor on the Democratic ticket. Without organization and with the certainty that not a vote cast for him was influenced by money, power or by anything but the confidence of the people in him, he goes into the campaign with nothing to regret, nothing to explain. There is nothing in his public or private life to detract from the appeal to people in all walks of life based upon the things which made him popular. All who know him like him for his magnetic personality, his singleness of purpose, his freedom from guile, his candor and his courage to do what his conscience tells him is right. This is not any stereotyped boost for the head of the Democratic ticket but what everyone in West Virginia and Washington who knows him will tell you. He served a term in the legislature where he was known as a worker who tried to get all the facts upon every question and then, when necessary, he expressed his views clearly and candidly. He served two terms in the National House where he gained the respect of members on both sides, never neglecting a duty and never overlooking an opportunity to serve his state and every one who sought his services. He was fairly elected to a third term, but it is not the place here to reargue that matter. P. Illophilically he accepted the illogical conclusion that there is one law in Raleigh and another in Kanawha and he went back to the "Pick and Shovel," his sprightly newspaper till his friends urged him to run for Governor. Now that he is commissioned by his party to run, do not think that he will not make a race. Everybody in West Virginia will see him before November and the people will like him too. Behind his modest, kind, tolerant approach to people and policies, the voters will find a thoughtful student, a patient worker, a strong debater, a determined gladiator for justice.

They will believe, as all who know him believe, that when he says that he will reduce taxation and get rid of the needless state employees and stop the extravagance, he will do it without fear or favor. It is not a fact for him to assure the people that, no organization, nor party nor faction, nor entanglements to stand between him and the people. Every fair citizen of the 6th Congressional District would make affidavit to that fact. As every person and interest get a fair hearing and a square deal when he was Congressman, so they will during this campaign and when he shall be Governor.

If and when the people of this tax-ridden, gang-controlled state find out how big and true and honest and devoted Alf Taylor is, they will bless this opportunity to make him Governor. Here is a straight qualified man as free from betraying a trust and as devoted to the interests of all the people as were Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson. The voters can never have a better opportunity to make a change than now.—Charles ton Gazette.

INDIANS ATE LIVER FOOD

Any custom that has built its own for generations usually has something back of it no matter how little it appears to be supported by modern science, in the opinion of Hugh S. Cummings, surgeon general of the United States public health service. "For a thousand years," he says, the Chinese have prescribed heads of powdered cod fish as a remedy for heart trouble, and now adrenin the most up to date drug for the treatment of heart disease, has been found to exist in the head glands of the fish. "For generations the fact that the American Indian hunters always chose the liver and the white meat when the animals they had trapped or killed were divided, was quoted as proof of their ignorance and primitive development. "Yet in the last five years the great nutritive value of liver has come to be recognized and it is prescribed in cases of anæmia."

HILLSBORO

The high school of this city closed Friday, June 1. Everyone was glad for a vacation, after study faithfully for nine months.

Judge Jake Fisher made a splendid talk to the Seniors of the high school Friday night, June 1. Those who received their diplomas were: Ozalla Alderman, Madge Arbogast, Maude Beard, E. H. Beard, Lina Browning, Denleigh Collins, Clarence Cochran, Willis Dorman, Lillian Hefner, Eula May, Herbert Hill, Katherine Hiner, Ethel May, Margaret McNeil, Catharine Moore, Aida Newman, E. H. Newman, Elnita Rodgers, Helen Walton, Virginia Ruckman. This is the second largest class in the history of the high school.

After registering at the school for next year's courses several girls and boys went on a picnic and after they ate lunch part of the crowd went in the "Long Cave" and the "Poor Farm Cave". Those present were: Ida Clendenen, Estelle Wrenless, Zella Workman, Clara Killison, Ina Curry, Helen Curry, Pauline Shrader, May Hill, Frank Beard, Dewey Barr, Earnest Burr, Henry Lee, Joe Smith, Harper and Joe Kramer. All reported a fine time. The operetta "Hearts and Blossoms" which the Treble Clef and Glee Clubs presented Wednesday night, May 30 was a great success, owing greatly to the characters and Miss Hammon the director.

While playing baseball Dick McNeil of Millpoint fell and broke a bone in his left wrist.

Mrs. Shrader and two daughters were business visitors in Marlinton recently.

Married, on May 20, 1928, S. R. Allen and Mrs. Susan Beverage Rodgers.

ICYBALL REFRIGERATOR

Refrigeration within the reach of all at an operating cost of 2c a day. Operator equally as well in country as in city as it requires no electricity, no moving parts, operate on heat alone.

In ordinary summer weather, once a day you lift the ICYBALL unit from the cabinet and place the hot ball over a fire with the cold ball immersed in a tub provided for that purpose. A steam warms you when it is ready and you replace the unit in the cabinet and your refrigerator delivers a lower temperature for the next 24 hours than you can ever get from an ordinary domestic ice box and artificial heat. The cold ball contains an ice tray and a supply of ice cubes is available at all times. Desserts, ices and mousers are easily frozen.

There are no moving parts—nothing to get out of order—no maintenance.

This marvelous device is now being demonstrated here. The price of $80.00 covers the ICYBALL, including cabinet and installation in your home.
